Wesch & Buchenroth wishes to grow in order to widen the range of its legal services. To preserve the firm's emphasis on quality and its corporate identity, however, this is also a question of development and time.

Accordingly, we are not only interested in lawyers with work experience and expertise, but also in young colleagues that have just or will soon finish their governmental internship or even law school as well as young students, from abroad and from Germany, that would like to join us as a trainee!
